

Inspiring Growth

"I really enjoy working with students who cannot see themselves past their mistakes ... I love walking them down that path to help them clear the fog in front of them and reach their potential. Those life-changing moments help me push for more."

MEET NANCY MEDINA

Students and families at Fair View Alternative Education are familiar with the outgoing, friendly and inviting personality of Targeted Case Manager Nancy Medina. Whether students are looking for help accessing school supplies, an ear to listen, or need a push in the right direction, Nancy is no stranger to helping students and families get the support they need to finish school and head toward a positive pathway.

Nancy lives by the philosophy:

"It's ok to make mistakes, but it is even better for you to grow from them."

The third of four siblings, Nancy is a Butte County local with a HUGE heart and a love of helping others. Nancy's first job was at a Community Day School in Southern California. Eventually, her path led to Chico. The last twelve years have been dedicated to supporting Fair View students and families.

LOVING WHAT YOU DO

Nancy greets students as they arrive on campus. She oversees the Student Success Center, which provides students and families with toiletries, clothes, school supplies and other living essentials.

Translation assistance, helping students navigate class and ensuring parents and students have a positive experience at Fair View are just a few of her daily tasks. Nancy is a crucial link for foster and homeless students and she works hard to connect with parents in their native language.
